The Strength of the U. S.

What is the backbone of America and who form the material on which we build tomorrow?

Is it the crowd who throng the streets?

Is it the conventional folk?

Is it those who go out night by night to shows?

Is it those whose names are well known?

Our hope is with the quiet few, who are rarely in evidence, whose names are unknown, who faithfully do their work, who are dependable, who have deep convictions, who talk little but who think deeply.

The beauty of the valley depends on the hidden springs, and the strength of a city, church, or country is the unnoticed steady serious minority.

There is one wise virgin to nine foolish ones; there is one real helper to nine who do nothing.

If you want America's strength for 1920 go to the quiet homes lined with books. Palestine's greatest asset was working at a village carpenter's bench for 20 years without a break.

Train Your Hair As An Actress Does

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and naturally no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry among them develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. Instead they have studied to find the finest preparation made for shampooing and bringing out the beauty of the hair. The majority of them say that to enjoy the best hair wash and scalp stimulator that is known, get a package of canthar from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. It costs less than three cents for this amount. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Adv.

In honor of Maj. and Mrs. Fred C. Miller, of Pittsburg, Pa., a "cafeteria party" and dance was given Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McMiller and daughter, Miss Mabel. At their home, 2811 Biles street. Various games were played early in the evening, the winners in the different contests being paid in chips representing money in various denominations. Later, when the refreshments were served, one of the rooms was thrown open and, arranged in true cafeteria style, were the various refreshments—salads of different kinds, fruits, nuts, pie, cake and candies. These were carefully selected, each being furnished with an individual tray, and the refreshments were paid for with the "money" earned in the games. Mr. H. J. McMiller was the cashier. Various cards were placed about the room such as "Please don't fill the cashiers' tray with money, but smile at the cashier, save your smiles for your wife, she needs them," etc. When those who had the "money" to purchase refreshments had been served, all the other guests were in turn given a charity feed, but few were without sufficient food to purchase, as considerable counterfeiting had been going on during the evening and most of the five-cent pieces had been raised to 25 or 50 cents by the dexterous use of a pencil. Prior to the serving of the refreshments, the guests were entertained by a Spanish girl, in native dances. Throughout the evening, music was rendered by Ray B. Reynolds and orchestra and after the games and refreshments, a variety was enjoyed, the dining room and sitting room being thrown together for the hop. The evening's entertainment was a mock wedding, which, in one of the games fell to the lot of Miss Bessie Gilson and Lieut. C. L. Homer. The ceremony was performed by Maj. Miller, hastily made up to represent a clergyman, and there were bridesmaids, flower girls, a best man, a matron of honor and even a "father" to give away the bride. The ceremony was much amused by the guests, and the home was beautifully decorated in American flags to carry out the military idea many of the guests being from the Pennsylvania national guard and the affair being in honor of the commander of the Pennsylvania national guard and his charming wife. Japanese lanterns lighted the lawn and the porch. In the contests, Mrs. G. A. Martin received the bouquet, Miss Moore, silk American flag. Those present during the evening included, besides the hosts Maj. and Mrs. Fred C. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Knoblauch and Mrs. E. F. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. George Boudley, Dr. Arthur Berdell, Mr. L. S. A. Misses Madeline Gierlach, Lena Fisher, Bessie Gilson, Isabelle Cusi and Edna Robinson, Mr. Hilbert Kentucky national guard; Maj. BULGARIAN VICTORY GIVES FEW CAPTIVES TO VICTORS

London, Eng., Sept. 12.—The Bulgarian troops which took the fortress of Silistra in Rumania, capture of which was announced by the German war office Sunday, apparently did not take any prisoners, according to the Berlin statement. The official Bulgarian statement of September 11, received here today, says the Rumanians killed on both sides of the Danube, pursued by our cavalry.

Although this translation of the Bulgarian statement, if taken literally, indicates that the Bulgarians have forced a passage of the Danube, it is improbable that the Bulgarian war office meant to convey the meaning. The Bulgarian report of the following day makes no mention of any such operation.

Today's Daintiest Dish

By CONSTANCE CLARKE.

Creamed Codfish and Spaghetti

IN HOT weather heavy meals should be avoided; light, appetizing dishes must be prepared to tempt jaded appetites. Dishes should be chosen which take little cooking, and so avoid overheating the house. Creamed codfish is easily prepared and is an improvement on the usual codfish dish.

Warm some button mushrooms (canned) in melted butter, prepare some spaghetti in the ordinary way, and season it well with salt and pepper. Remove the skin and bone from an equal amount of cooked codfish (boned), or prepared salt codfish can be substituted, and divide into flakes. Take little ramikin dishes and rub them round with garlic, spread a thick layer of codfish and a layer of spaghetti, and pour sauce over the top. Repeat this until the dish is full, reserving enough sauce to cover the last layer of spaghetti.—Tomorrow—Raspberry Shortcake.—Copyright, 1916, International News Service.

BULGARS ACCUSE SAWS MORRISON Foe OF CRUELTY

Berlin, Germany, Sept. 12.—(By wire.)—The official Bulgarian statement of September 11 says ten cannon were taken by the Bulgarians before the Rumanians, against the defenceless population. A report from the commander-in-chief, dated September 10, says:

"Since the first day after the crossing of the frontier it has been established that the Rumanian army has committed a series of inhuman atrocities which more and more prove to have been incredibly brutal. Some days before the declaration of war the Rumanian authorities took all cattle without formal requisition."

"When the Rumanians retreated they formed special detachments for the burning of Bulgarian villages. The villages of Ciskio, Altunovo and Sereharna and others in the vicinity of Tortukal and Silistra are still burning."

The word "forever" she said, had been inserted in the will now on file. The original will, she said, did not convey the property "forever" but only during Edward Morrison's life.

If Edward W. Morrison dies without children, the will directs that the estate shall go to the city of Chicago for educational purposes. Morrison recently adopted two girls, which, their reputed father, Joseph Burnstein, a junk dealer, said Morrison was their real father.
